

STEAM COILS

Steam coils have been competitively manufactured by American Coil for more than 20 years.

Produced for both east and west regions, our top-grade steam coils are in use nationwide for steam distribution, tube-in-tube, and no freeze applications. If your contractor or wholesale business requires steam or booster coils, American Coil is capable of engineering and delivering a custom solution to fit any size project, big or small.

American Coil has long been the original equipment manufacturer for marquee brands nationwide. We have designed and had our steam coils installed in the following industries:

- Industrial air handler manufacturers in California, Arizona, Mexico, New Jersey, New York and across the Midwest
- Restaurant and foodservice manufacturers
- Blue-chip names in OEM HVAC
- School Systems
- Cities and large municipalities
- Leading US air curtain manufacturers
-

At American Coil can provide the best solutions to your custom application by engineering exact solutions designed to optimize performance and function. With our expert team of specialty engineers available to help you specify the dimensions of your project, American Coil can be your solution for steam and booster coil. Contact our expert team today to learn more about our steam coils.

